

Proposal form

For practices regulated by the Council for Licensed Conveyancers

IMPORTANT NOTICE:

1. Before the insurance contract is entered into, the proposer must make a fair presentation of the risk to the insurer, in accordance with Section 3 of the Insurance Act 2015.

In summary, the proposer must:

- a) disclose to the insurer every material circumstance which the proposer knows or ought to know. Failing that, the proposer must give the insurer sufficient information to put a prudent insurer on notice that it needs to make further enquiries in order to reveal material circumstances. A matter is material if it would influence the judgement of a prudent insurer as to whether to accept the risk and, if so on what terms (including premium);
 - b) make the disclosure in clause 1.a) above in a reasonably clear and accessible manner; and
 - c) ensure that every material representation as to matter of fact is substantially correct, and that every material representation as to matter of expectation or belief is made in good faith.
2. For the purposes of clause 1.a) above, the proposer is expected to know the following:
 - a) If the proposer is an individual, what is known to the individual and anybody who is responsible for arranging his or her insurance.
 - b) If the proposer is not an individual, what is known to anybody who is part of the proposer's senior management; or anybody who is responsible for arranging the proposer's insurance.
 - c) Whether the proposer is an individual or otherwise, what should reasonably have been revealed by a reasonable search of information available to the proposer. The proposer cannot ignore or deliberately withhold information (this may amount to a breach of the duty of fair presentation even if the insurer had sufficient information to ask questions and did not do so). The information may be held within the proposer's organisation, or by any third party (including but not limited to subsidiaries, affiliates, the broker, or any other person who will be covered under the insurance). If the proposer is insuring subsidiaries, affiliates or other parties, the insurer expects that the proposer will have included them in its enquiries, and that the proposer will inform the insurer if it has not done so. The reasonable search may be conducted by making enquiries or by any other means.

If the proposer becomes aware that information provided prior to confirmation of insurance cover was incorrect or incomplete the proposer should tell us immediately

If in doubt, please contact Miller.

13. DECLARATION/SUPPLEMENTARY QUESTIONNAIRES

Duty of fair presentation:

It is your duty to make a fair presentation of the risk to the insurer, in accordance with Section 3 of the Insurance Act 2015.

You must:

- a) disclose to the insurer every material circumstance which the proposer knows or ought to know. Failing that, the proposer must give the insurer sufficient information to put a prudent insurer on notice that it needs to make further enquiries in order to reveal material circumstances. A matter is material if it would influence the judgement of a prudent insurer as to whether to accept the risk and, if so on what terms (including premium);
- b) make the disclosure in clause a) above in a reasonably clear and accessible manner; and
- c) ensure that every material representation as to matter of fact is substantially correct, and that every material representation as to matter of expectation or belief is made in good faith.

Failure to do so may prejudice your rights in the event of a claim or result in insurers voiding your policy:

The minimum compulsory level of cover:

Under the Council for Licensed Conveyancers (CLC) Participating Insurers Agreement (PIA), the Insurers are not entitled to avoid or repudiate this Policy on any grounds whatsoever including, without limitation, non-disclosure, misrepresentation, breach of warranty, condition or condition precedent however Insurers will have the right to seek reimbursement of the benefit of this Policy in relation to fraudulent non-disclosure, misrepresentation or untrue statement in the proposal form where Insurers have proved such non-disclosure, misrepresentation or untrue statement was made with fraudulent intent.

The PIA applies to the compulsory level of cover only.

Excess Layer policies placed in excess of the minimum compulsory level of cover:

Unless agreed otherwise, failure to make a fair presentation of risk in accordance with the Insurance Act 2015, will provide insurers with the following remedies in the event of a breach of duty of fair presentation:

1. If the breach of duty of fair presentation was prior to entering into the insurance contract, the remedies available to the insurer are set out below:
 - a) If the insured's breach of the duty of fair presentation is deliberate or reckless:
 - i) the insurer may avoid the contract, and refuse to pay all claims; and,
 - ii) the insurer need not return any of the premiums paid.

- b) If the insured's breach of the duty of fair presentation is not deliberate or reckless, the insurer's remedy shall depend upon what the insurer would have done if the insured had complied with the duty of fair presentation:
 - i) If the insurer would not have entered into the contract at all, the insurer may avoid the contract and refuse all claims, but must return the premiums paid.
 - ii) If the insurer would have entered into the contract, but on different terms (other than terms relating to the premium), the contract is to be treated as if it had been entered into on those different terms from the outset, if the insurer so requires.

In addition, if the insurer would have entered into the contract, but would have charged a higher premium, the insurer may reduce proportionately the amount to be paid on a claim (and, if applicable, the amount already paid on prior claims). In those circumstances, the insurer shall pay only X% of what it would otherwise have been required to pay, where $X = (\text{premium actually charged} / \text{higher premium}) \times 100$.

- 2. If the breach of duty of fair presentation was prior to entering into a variation to the insurance contract, the remedies available to the insurer are set out below:
 - a) If the insured's breach of the duty of fair presentation is deliberate or reckless:
 - i) the insurer may by notice to the Insured treat the contract as having been terminated from the time when the variation was concluded; and,
 - ii) the insurer need not return any of the premiums paid.
 - b) If the insured's breach of the duty of fair presentation is not deliberate or reckless, the insurer's remedy shall depend upon what the insurer would have done if the insured had complied with the duty of fair presentation:
 - i) If the insurer would not have agreed to the variation at all, the insurer may treat the contract as if the variation was never made, but must in that event return any extra premium paid.
 - ii) If the insurer would have agreed to the variation to the contract, but on different terms (other than terms relating to the premium), the variation is to be treated as if it had been entered into on those different terms, if the insurer so requires.
 - iii) If the insurer would have increased the premium by more than it did or at all, then the insurer may reduce proportionately the amount to be paid on a claim arising out of events after the variation. In those circumstances, the insurer shall pay only X% of what it would otherwise have been required to pay, where $X = (\text{premium actually charged} / \text{higher premium}) \times 100$.
 - iv) If the insurer would not have reduced the premium as much as it did or at all, then the insurer may reduce proportionately the amount to be paid on a claim arising out of events after the variation. In those circumstances, the insurer shall pay only X% of what it would otherwise have been required to pay, where $X = (\text{premium actually charged} / \text{reduced total premium}) \times 100$.
